EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Ken Smolik on 06/09/2005. The amendments are being made so as to remove duplicate claims.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the claims:

Cancel claims 26 and 33;

In the specification:

Replace the priority statement in the first line of the specification with:

"This application is a continuation of application 09/935,348, filed 08/22/2001, now U.S. Patent Number 6,736,642 granted May 18, 2004, the disclosure of which is incorporate herein by reference, which is a continuation of applications 09/387,618, 09/386895, 09/387,193, and 09/387,748 all filed 08/31/1999 and now abandoned."

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record fails to teach the combination of elements as specifically claimed. Specifically the prior art fails to teach a system and computer readable medium in which the user is presented with a first portion of a stimulus (described as a scenario by the specification); is prompted to enter their reaction to the first portion; recording the reaction; is prompted to enter an assumption that forms the basis of the user's reaction; is then presented with a second portion of the stimuli followed by feedback adapted to identify how the user's reaction was based on the assumption. An assumption in the instantly claimed invention has been interpreted by its dictionary definition: "a fact or statement taken for granted" (Merriam-Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, tenth addition). Under this definition the assumption that forms the basis for the user's reaction is more akin to logic or reasoning supporting or justifying the user's reaction to the first portion of the stimulus. This definition is commensurate with the scope of the specification; see for example paragraphs 4, 31 and 67. The prior art of record does not teach or reasonably suggest such a feature in combination with the other components of the claim.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
